Who will OWN
it?

Who will CONTROL
it?

Who will PAY for it?

R.L. Brohawn

When hatching a plan to “build back better,” with new infrastructure, energy systems, and technologies, we need to ask:

Who will OWN it?

A wealthy few, the government or collective?

Or every citizen, with equal lifetime ownership opportunities?

Who will CONTROL it?

A wealthy few, the government or collective?

Or every citizen, with ownership rights in shares of new capital assets?

Who will PAY for it?

A wealthy few using other people's money, or the government using taxpayers' money, deficits and debt?

Or every citizen, with equal access to insured capital credit to buy income-earning shares of growth capital, paid for with future profits?

To grow a free market economy with justice and economic democracy:

“Empower each person no matter how small with capital credit for one and for all!”
